Cisely the Same Way.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BALTIMORE, MD., April &-Curious coincidences characterize the suicides of two men in this city.

Jacob Dornbusch, a well known resident of Locust Point, hanged himself to a bed-post at his home Wednesday night, and yesterday morning Justus Djetrich, who lived with his nephew, William Steinbach, used the same means of bringing his life to a close, Both suicides were identical in every respect, and so far as can be, learned the motive in each case was the same.

Dornbusch was 69 years old, and he had become despondent as a result of illness. The same cause for suicide is given in the case of Dietrich, who was 49 years old, and had been in the case of Dietrich, who was 49 years old, and had been an invalid for nearly a year. For several years Dietrick had been suffering with an affection of the heart, and for nearly a year.
